Bradley-Mason

Case Study

Trade Counters

Bradley-Mason can assist trade clients with their bespoke needs at all stages of the property lifecycle. With a range of well-known clients we have advised on acquisitions and disposals whilst also delivering the design and management of national roll-out schemes.

Hewden Hire:

Following our involvement with Hewden on their Olympic Park satellite facility we have acted for Hewden in a range of dilapidations, defects diagnosis and project management jobs.

Formula 1 Autocentres:

We were pleased to be appointed as lead property consultant in their expansion and national roll out. We undertook a full review of the procurement process to ensure build cost was minimised. Not only were costs reduced but the time onsite was significantly reduced and all sites to date opened on the predicted date.

Toolstation:

Since developing Toolstation's national roll-out strategy in 2008 we have continued to work with Toolstation to deliver over 215 sites and a second distribution centre. Undertaking all stages of survey, LLs negotiation, design and management.

Speedy Plc:

We have acted on a national basis for Speedy for over 5 years and advise on all aspects of building surveying. Most recently we have designed and managed their new Superstore roll-out and successfully negotiated over 30 dilapidations claims on closed sites as part of their rationalisation programme.
